The selections for bunch races could use more clarity. Given Criteria 1 is impossible and Criteria 2 is improbable selection to Pan Am Games for a bunch race hinges solely on having been selected for Pan Am Champs in a bunch race (the selection for which is not out). In light of CC having to overturn its own published Commonwealth Games selection criteria last year it would behove the organization to put together a more detailed process for how these selections will be made.	Selection to bunch events at Pan Am Games does not hinge solely on being selected to bunch events at the Pan American Championships: Pan Am Games athletes must first be selected to the Team Pursuit before being selected to the bunch events. The athletes selected to the Pan Am Games Team Pursuit may not have competed in the bunch events at the Pan American Championships. In addition, athletes have the opportunity to achieve a higher priority of selection through results at World Cups, and if none of the Team Pursuit athletes meet priorities 1 through 3, Priority 4 is based on results at UCI C1 events. Nevertheless, given the unpredictable depth of field at Pan Am Championships and C1 events, we have opted to tighten up priorities 3 and 4 to top 3 results rather than top 5. Note that the 2026 Commonwealth Games selection was not overturned; CC followed the policy carefully and invoked a clause that allows us to deviate from the published selection priorities to support qualification for major events.
